Preston Wallace Rifle Expert

PRESTON R. WALLACE

FT. DIX, N. J. (AHTNC) — Army Private Preston R. Wallace, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. G. Wallace, 90 School St., Agawam, fired expert with the M-14 rifle near the completion of basic combat training at Ft. Dix, N.J., Oct. 10.

The expert rating is the highest mark a soldier can achieve on his weapons qualification test.

Tax Claim—Party Split Hurts Democrats; New Voters May Decide Election

The local Democratic party which is now, the town's majority party and in control of the town government is wracked with dissension which, many feel is due to the practice within the party of removing Democratic incumbents from office. These Democrats have in the past performed admirably for the town and have helped build their party from one which was in the minority just a few short years ago to its present status. They now resent the party "take over" by those who had little or nothing to do with the party's struggle to the top.

Some of the more prominent Democrats have placed the blame squarely on the shoulders of Selectman Fred Nardi.

Nardi just moved into the scene four years ago, with ample funds, and unseated Democratic incumbent Walter T. Kern in the party caucus, but then lost the election to Edward Connelly.

This was the beginning of the rift which has widened each year. Since that time, other party members have felt the heavy hand of what they believe to be outright "Bossism" carried out to extremes, not only in the party, but in the Town Hall.

Feeling against Selectman Charest is also running high because of his tendency to accede to the wishes of Mr. Nardi and his continual policy of vacillation.

The consensus of opinion of many in the Town is that the

The menu will consist of corned beef hash, baked beans, meat loaf, macaroni and cheese, potato salad, cabbage salad, rolls and butter, pie, fruited jello, pie a la mode, ice cream, coffee, tea and milk.

During the morning and the afternoon there will be many articles for sale on the booths, aprons, gifts and greeting cards, including Christmas cards, hand knitted articles, a home baked food sale, holiday decorations, Christmas and Thanksgiving, Christmas wreaths, a home made candy sale, attic treasures for sale, and many other items of interest.

Come and browse around and get your Christmas shopping done early.

Architect's Drawing of Westfield Savings Bank Agawam Branch

An architect's drawing of the Agawam office of the Westfield Savings Bank, now under construction at 655 Main St., Agawam, and scheduled to open early in 1968 is pictured above, Reinhardt Associates of Springfield is the architect for the colonial building, which will have 2500 square feet and is located on a nearly two-acre site.

The new Westfield Savings branch will have a drive-in window and will be electrically heated. W. J. Quinn Co., Inc., of East Longmeadow, is the general contractor. President Arthur W. Knapp said the new office will bring new savings bank convenience to Agawam, where Westfield Savings already has many savings and mortgage customers.

Tax Claim . . .

present condition is about to come to an end, however those in power will not go down without a stiff fight and without the use of their seemingly endless supply of campaign funds.

The Nardi faction in the party have come to the realization that their actions in office have already alienated many of the regular voters who are familiar with town government and how it operates. To offset this disadvantage, the Democrats have carried out a successful voter registration drive, with the thought in mind that the new voters might favor their party, but as the campaign swings into it's final weeks, it is now questionable as to whether the strategy will work. Indications are that the newly registered voters will be much more selective than the Democrats anticipated, and that they are unlikely to be influenced by campaign claims, such as that one man did reduce, and will again reduce the Tax Rate, particularly when he has failed to prove just how it was accomplished and how he proposes to do it again.

The fallacy of the above claim is beginning to become more obvious as each day passes, because the town's new residents are being made aware of the existence of the 180 Town Meeting Members who control the town's expenditures, which in turn determines the amount to be raised by taxation. This along with certain revenues not limited to the sales tax, produces the necessary figures to allow the Board of Assessors to set the Tax Rate.

To say that the Town Meeting Members are irked is putting it mildly.

The supporters of George Reynolds for Selectmen are exerting every effort to bring home the true facts about the tax rate to not only the new but regular voters, and if they succeed, Agawam will have a change on the Board of Selectmen, and undoubtedly, the popular and able Selectman Connelly, whose talents has been wasted and who received an overwhelming mandate from the voters at the last election, would be named Chairman of the Board, and it will bring an end to what many including Democrats call "ONE MAN CONTROL."

Bay State Motorist Still In Insurance Rut

Massachusetts motorists, beset by high automobile insurance rates as well as by high-density traffic, apparently will not get any relief in 1968.

With the State House and Senate supporting completely different revisions of the present compulsory auto insurance law, stalemate seems likely.

ROBERT W. JOHNSON

Robert Johnson Candidate For School Committee

Robert W. Johnson, the Republican candidate for School Committee, asks your support in the coming election. Mr. Johnson states: "Having served as Town Meeting Member for the past few years, I have become very interested in the education of Agawam youngsters and feel aware of their needs. Considering the school budget comprises over fifty per cent of your tax dollar, a School Committee Member has a serious position in seeing that the best possible education is provided for each dollar spent.

"The Agawam school system has always upheld high standards and the School Committee has comprised dedicated hard working men. But certainly, we are living in a time of change, especially in the realm of education. Therefore, there are always new things to be added and improvements to be made. The challenge is here and it is up to every citizen to meet it, by voting in the November election—to elect a candidate who knows what the people expect and want for our young people."

November 12, 1921—President Warren G. Harding dedicated the tomb in which America's Unknown Soldier was buried at Arlington National Cemetery.

Precinct 1 To Host Reynolds Reception

The Squire's Restaurant, River St. will be the site of a coffee hour reception for Mr. George Reynolds, candidate for Selectman, on Sunday November 12th starting at 7:30 p.m.

The committee, consisting of Precinct 1 citizens, have invited precinct voters to meet and talk with Mr. Reynolds, and will serve as host and hostesses for the reception.

Those serving on the committee are Mrs. Thomas Colli, Mrs. Emma Ricci, Mrs. Paul Broz, Mrs. Richard Godet, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Bellano, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Swanson and Mr. and Mrs. Donald McCave. Assisting them on the committee is Mrs. Venetta (Montagna) Snyder, a member of Reynolds for Selectman Committee.

The committee extends an open invitation to any Agawam voter who wishes to meet Mr. Reynolds, to attend.

VOTERS of AGAWAM LET'S TAKE A GOOD LOOK AT NARDI and the WEST SIDE SELECTMAN

Since the beginning of the history of our town we have been a good neighbor to the Town of West Springfield. We have enjoyed a friendly rivalry on the football field and other sports. We have shared in the cost of maintaining our bridges. We are tied to them economically and our relationship with their town officials has been excellent . . . they have acted as gentlemen and so have we . . . that is until the rise of Nardi.

LET'S TAKE A GOOD LOOK AT THE NARDI METHOD . . .

'Come On Outside...' 'Smash in Mouth' Offer By Agawam's Mr. Nardi

WEST SPRINGFIELD—Agawam Selectman Frederick Nardi threatened to "smash" a West Springfield selectman "in the mouth" at a meeting of the two boards to discuss repairs to the Mittineague Bridge.

The threat came last night at a meeting at the Agawam Town Hall which brought together the towns' six selectmen, Selectmen Richard S. Sullivan, chairman, Wilfrid J. Bourque and Raymond J. Sweeney, all of West Springfield; and Selectmen Nardi, chairman, Raymond E. Charest and Edward W. Connelly of Agawam.

No sooner had the local officials entered the selectmen's chambers at the Agawam Town Hall when Mr. Nardi fired a question to the three visitors concerning a published news account earlier this month.

He told the visiting selectmen that he didn't like the idea of a story pointing out that the Agawam selectmen didn't show up for a meeting with the West Springfield selectmen.

"Which one of you was responsible for that story?" Mr. Nardi asked. "I didn't like the damn idea."

SPORTSMEN'S CORNER

By BILL CHIBA

In preparation for a four-day trip in the wilds of New Hampshire, Stan Berchulski, outdoor writer for the Daily News, and I ventured forth with the bows last Saturday. Believe me, when they say that there are more deer in New Hampshire this year than in the past, they, who ever they are, are right. We hit an area just on the other side of Keene that gave us some excitement a few seasons ago. The sign of bucks working the orchard and hillside nearby was remarkable. The place resembled Vermont, there was so much sign. Stan heard two deer in the thick pines adjacent to the orchard, but could not stalk near enough to do any good with the bow.

We pulled out of the woods around 11 a.m., and proceeded to another spot to check it out. The same conditions prevailed . . . deer sign everywhere. The third location was no different from the first two. We were going to play the northern part of the state opening day, Friday the 10th of Nov., but changed our minds and will be in southern New Hampshire opening day.

SMELT AGAIN

Smelt will be placed in Quabbin Reservoir next spring by the Division of Fisheries and Game in cooperation with the Metropolitan District Commission. With no open season on smelt, that hardly seems like news to fishermen, but Quabbin anglers know that smelt are an important forage fish and vital to the growth of big trout for which the reservoir has been noted in the past.

MDC Commissioner Howard Whitmore, Water Division director Charles Clark and Quabbin Superintendent John Compithorne, appreciative of the importance of sport fishing although their first responsibility is the water supply, have volunteered to permit fish and game division to introduce smelt back into the 25,000 acre reservoir, provided that at all times the required standards of water quality are not adversely affected.

The former smelt population had been largely eradicated because of problems of conflict with water supply operations. The initial reintroduction will be conservative and carefully monitored under a federal aid to fisheries project.

Fish and Game director, Jim Shepard, has promised the full cooperation of his division in helping with any controls on the smelt population that might become necessary in the future to protect water consumers. Studies on possible methods of screening intakes will continue. In the meantime, it is believed that the salmon and trout predator populations, not present when smelt were first introduced in the fifties, will tend to control smelt numbers.

The rifle season for hunting bucks only will open Saturday, Nov. 11 in Vermont. Only bucks with at least one antler measuring three inches will be legal with either rifle, shotgun, or bow arrow.

The Massachusetts bow and arrow season for deer opens Nov. 13. Make sure that you have purchased a deer stamp from your Town Clerk. It is a must before you can venture forth with the bow. Another reminder, don't have a gun in your possession while hunting for deer with the bow . . . this also pertains to your car. To be safe, leave the shotgun home. The conservation officers are doing their jobs like we want them to. If you break the law, you will suffer the consequences . . . ignorance of the law will not get you off the hook. Make sure that your arrows have your name and address marked clearly on them. This will be the first thing the officers will look for upon approaching you.

Precinct 2 Open House for Reynolds

Mr. Brady D. Snyder of Strawberry Hill Rd., will conduct an Open-House coffee hour for Mr. George Reynolds, candidate for selectman on Friday evening Nov. 10th at the Grange Hall, North West St., Feeding Hills, starting at 7:30 p.m.

Mr. Snyder in announcing the open-house stated, "Before casting a vote for any candidate for public office, one should know the person for whom that vote is being cast. This is the purpose of the open-house, to give the old and newly registered voters of Precinct #2 an opportunity to meet George Reynolds. To accomplish this, I will moderate an open discussion on important issues and concerns of the voters in Precinct #2.

Serving as host and hostesses with Mr. Snyder are: Mr. and Mrs. Richard Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Reed and Mr. and Mrs. William Spring and Mrs. Janet Clark.

ADULT—A person who has stopped growing except in the middle.

I Believe . . .

by GEORGE L. REYNOLDS—Candidate for Selectman

My "I Believe" thoughts are directed today to the newly registered voters. Congratulations are in order for those who worked unselfishly to accomplish the task. Congratulations to those who accepted the responsibility of meeting their voting obligation. They shall no longer be classified as negative voters.

Now, as an unacquainted traveler who lands at the airport in a strange city must inquire about lodging, food, and perhaps employment, our new voter must, too, put his mark and his feet on sound ground.

In the haze of conflicting political propaganda some conveying the truth, others maligning the record of opponents, how can you make a sensible choice of the candidates.

You should decide whether you were merely encouraged in the registration process or whether you were pressured to do so. There are many who believe this coming election will be decided by the swing of the new voter and they have followed a program of registration to reinforce their candidate. This may be an asset for them but what about you? No doubt they will deny any pressure was applied on the unregistered voter but first on their campaign program this year was to corral all the new votes they could.

So where do you stand today? Take a good look at the situation. If you look at the record of each candidate you will be taking the first sound step. Don't ask one person about the record of candidates, ask several. Work out an average for yourself. This is your vote and you should treat it with care. Find out which one had a plan for the good of everyone. Which one used his position to control his own plans? Which one has an honest record encompassed with dignity? Which one is frantically burning his bridges just before election day?

New Voters! You are shopping for your choice. Party labels are not the important factor. Just as buying a new suit, choose one which best fits the situation. Choose one which has an established trade mark of quality and service, not only as advertised but proven by the record. Certainly if you are going to buy a suit which must serve you for three years, buy one that fits. Only one suit offered for sale and service in this coming election has that trademark.

Also on our sick list is Mrs. Julia Moore. She had a fall last week and has been laid up in bed at home. Hope you are coming along well now and that we shall see you up and around soon.

Our Christmas Gift Shop gifts are all packed and ready for delivery to Leeds' Hospital. If you have not done so, and would like to contribute, please feel free to notify either Julia Moore, chairman, or Gladys Catchepaugh, as I am sure they will find room to fit more into those cartons. As in the past, we have again gone well over our quota and will help to make this a happy Christmas for the families of the boys at Leeds.

The Unit wishes to express its sincere thanks to Gladys Catchepaugh for her many years of handling publicity for our Unit. She now feels that she has too many other things that must take preference and has had to give it up.

In Massachusetts—Kemper Insurance has been saving careful drivers real money for years on non-compulsory coverages. This year alone, Kemper policyholders who drive popular-priced autos will make such savings when they renew their full coverage policies in 1968, thanks to a big dividend on 1967 non-compulsory coverages and new low rates on property damage liability, collision and comprehensive coverages for 1968. Even policyholders with liability coverage only will realize substantial savings.

*The savings shown above are based on the lowest rate classification for full coverage comprehensive, $50 deductible collision and $5,000 property damage liability for a new popular-priced sedan. Inquire today for information on how much cash savings this can mean to you—as a new policyholder.
